Sunderland Student Law Journal Issue 1

Ali, Lyndsey, Anderson, Rhys, Christie, Laura, May, Rebecca, Pitcaim, Sean and Spontzari, Cirini (2020) Sunderland Student Law Journal Issue 1. ISSN: 2634-193X. University of Sunderland.

Item Type: Other

Abstract

The University of Sunderland Student Law Journal provides students with an opportunity to present their work to faculty members and peers, and aims to invigorate both undergraduate and postgraduate law students' active participation in the community of legal scholars. The Journal unites students and staff by helping students to engage in the publishing process with support and guidance from experienced members of academia.

The peer-reviewed, open-access journal, is devoted to legal research and is a platform to publish notes, case comments and papers. The journal is also interested in any proposals to draft and/or amend the existing laws. Our Law students are invited to submit papers, articles and case comments engaging with any area of law.

INTRODUCTION
The underlying aim of this research is to explore the factors that influence the inclusion of pupils with special educational needs in mainstream primary schools. This thesis is on the inclusion and exclusion of pupils with special educational needs in mainstream primary schools. The aim of this research is to explore the factors that influence the inclusion of pupils with special educational needs in mainstream primary schools. The aim of this research is to explore the factors that influence the inclusion of pupils with special educational needs in mainstream primary schools.

RESEARCH QUESTION
The research question of this thesis is to explore the factors that influence the inclusion of pupils with special educational needs in mainstream primary schools.

METHODOLOGY
The method of research employed in this research was a qualitative research design. The data was collected through semi-structured interviews with primary school teachers and special educational needs coordinators. The data was analysed using thematic analysis.

CONCLUSION
The research has identified several factors that influence the inclusion of pupils with special educational needs in mainstream primary schools. These factors include teacher attitudes, school culture, and parental involvement. The research also identified several strategies that can be used to improve the inclusion of pupils with special educational needs in mainstream primary schools.

Reflective Action in Education at the University of Sunderland

Sunderland Reflective Action in Education (SunRAE) is a University of Sunderland project that supports the University of Sunderland international PGCE community to share their research and practice.

Our aim is to promote and support a culture of research-informed practice in international initial teacher education by encouraging staff, students and graduates to engage in dialogue and critical reflection about their studies and work in international schools.

SunRAE has several channels: the podcast, the conference and the journal. We hope that this provides routes for everyone to share their work in their preferred way.

In true distance learning style, there is a live and pre-recorded option for presenters.

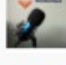

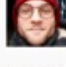

Startup funding for the SunRAE project was awarded to Dr Elizabeth Hickson and the International Initial Teacher Training Team in the University of Sunderland's Vice-Chancellor's Teaching Fellowship Awards 2021-2022. Funding for the podcast project, which has been integrated into the overall SunRAE project, was awarded as part of the Dean of the Faculty of Education and Society's Research Fund for 2021-2022.

The RIOS Method

A word problem solving strategy by Nathalie Dela Rosa

 R

READ

Read and Understand the word problem carefully.

Look for words that can help you understand.

 I

IMAGINE

Visualise the problem in your head or draw it!

Imagine how the word problem would look like if it was in movie or if it was happening in front of you!

 O

OPERATION

Now that you have a picture of how the word problem works, think about:

What operation do I need to use?

+ - x ÷

What is my number equation?

 S

SOLVE

Solve the problem using the operation you chose.

What strategy am I using? Show my working out.
